

Central maple syrup plant feasible, study shows

Though capital intensive, 100,000 tap facility could show a modest return on investment

A commercial maple syrup production facility could be established in Haliburton County provided the provincial government and a major food company are willing to share the costs with private shareholders, a feasibility study has concluded. But the study also cautions that at the outset at least, the facility would be hard-pressed to turn a profit for investors.

The study, prepared for the county's economic development commission by the management consulting firm of Woods Gordon, was presented to Haliburton County council last Wednesday. It concludes that there is a ready potential for a large scale operation of 100,000 taps or more, but that the capital intensive nature of the project makes it all but impossible without the cooperation of the public, the provincial government and a food company willing to provide marketing expertise to distribute the finished product.

Completed at a cost of $10,500, the study provides the basis for further work on the project, and indicates a number of subjects that will have to be studied before any decisions on whether or not to proceed can be made.

The consultants' findings are summarized in 12 conclusions which were outlined to county council last Wednesday by Jim Brown of Woods Gordon.

Working in conjunction with the EDC's maple syrup task force, the consultants found that there are some 150,000 acres of potentially tappable sugar bush in the county consisting of close to 1500 separate stands of bush with over 30 per cent maple. Of these, some 290 stands are located in 25 zones of 1000 acres or more at a maximum distance of one mile from a main road and within about three miles of a readily accessible focal point. The zones also comprise terrain generally suitable for lengthy tap lines.

"In order to effectively tap this resource and secure a reliable source of supply, it will be necessary not only to provide a reasonable financial incentive to bush owners, but also to establish in them a strong sense of participation in a community-based enterprise," the study notes.

It envisions a tap rental rate of between 10 cents and 25 cents per tap on private land and five cents per tap on crown land. A bush management program to improve stands and the possibility of a firewood operation in conjunction with the management program are also envisioned in the report.

The report notes that a large-scale commercial operation in the county would consist of a central evaporation and packaging plant to handle the sap from 100,000 to 125,000 taps. This facility would produce between 20,000 and 25,000 gallons of syrup, and would be developed over a 10-year period. But a longer term objective of up to 500,000 taps "would not be unreasonable" according to the study.

The 95,000 gallons of syrup produced by a half million tap operation would represent only four per cent of the present Canadian domestic and export market.

"There is a market for top quality maple syrup," the consultants concluded. "However the financial feasibility of a maple syrup operation is very price sensitive, and it would be essential to provide a strong marketing input to the management of the enterprise." This could be accomplished by hiring a general manager with a strong marketing and management background, and by seeking an affiliation with a major food company, according to the study.

To reach the projected level of between 100,000 and 125,000 taps, the consultants recommend "a slow, steady growth that might take in the order of 10 years at a development rate of about 12,500 taps per year."

"In the early years particularly, great care and skilled management would be needed to deal with the foreseeable problems," the study emphasizes.

Stage one of a development program would involve the purchase of a woodlot of at least 300 acres capable of providing 25,000 taps, and the establishment of a central evaporator plant with an initial capacity of 12,000 taps.

The primary site for the plant should be off Highway 530 in the area of West Guilford, the study concludes, with a second alternative being the area south of Lake Kashagawigamog.

Second stage development would take place within four years, and would include expansion to 25,000 taps on site and an increase in processing capacity to handle the output from 50,000 taps. Because sap loses its quality if it sits for more than 24 hours, the facility would have to include storage tanks and an evaporator large enough to process the sap within that limited time.

The traditional method of evaporation using oil-fired equipment to reduce raw sap to syrup results in a substantial overhead cost for fuel, a cost that will continue to rise in the future. To reduce the impact of fuel costs, the consultants recommend that equipment to concentrate the sap should be included in the startup operation. Although still in the experimental stage, the equipment, which uses osmosis to remove up to 80 percent of the water from the sap through a semi-permeable membrane, is expected to revolutionize the syrup production industry.

Family escapes as fire destroys home

A family of five in Stanhope Township was left homeless when a wood stove and oil space heater connected to the same chimney ignited their frame house.

Colin Barjarow, his wife and three children, were forced out of their home last Thursday afternoon when the chimney fire began, township fire chief, George Wilson said Monday.

The house, on the Barry Line in Stanhope Township, was completely destroyed by the blaze. The family are presently staying in an old school house on the airport road just south of the Barry Line.

When the fire trucks, including Dysart's tanker, arrived on the scene, some 14 minutes after the fire call, the blaze was already in the attic, Wilson said.

"The heat was so fierce we couldn't fight the fire inside," he said. Although the firefighters tried to get through a back door, it was impossible, Wilson added.

"The whole house was all wood," he explained. The house had apparently been constructed at a time when pine wall boards were used as a type of insulation but after many years the insulation turned into extremely dry wood with air spaces in-between, Wilson said.

Some of the pine boards had been panelled over as well as wallpapered, he said.

But the biggest problem was the wood stove and oil burner were hooked up to the same chimney, which is illegal, according to Wilson.

"It's probably been like that for years," he said.

Also, the manufactured chimney which was used for the two stoves was about 15 years old, Wilson said. He said it was possible the asbestos in it had shrunk.

Roads talks go to conciliator

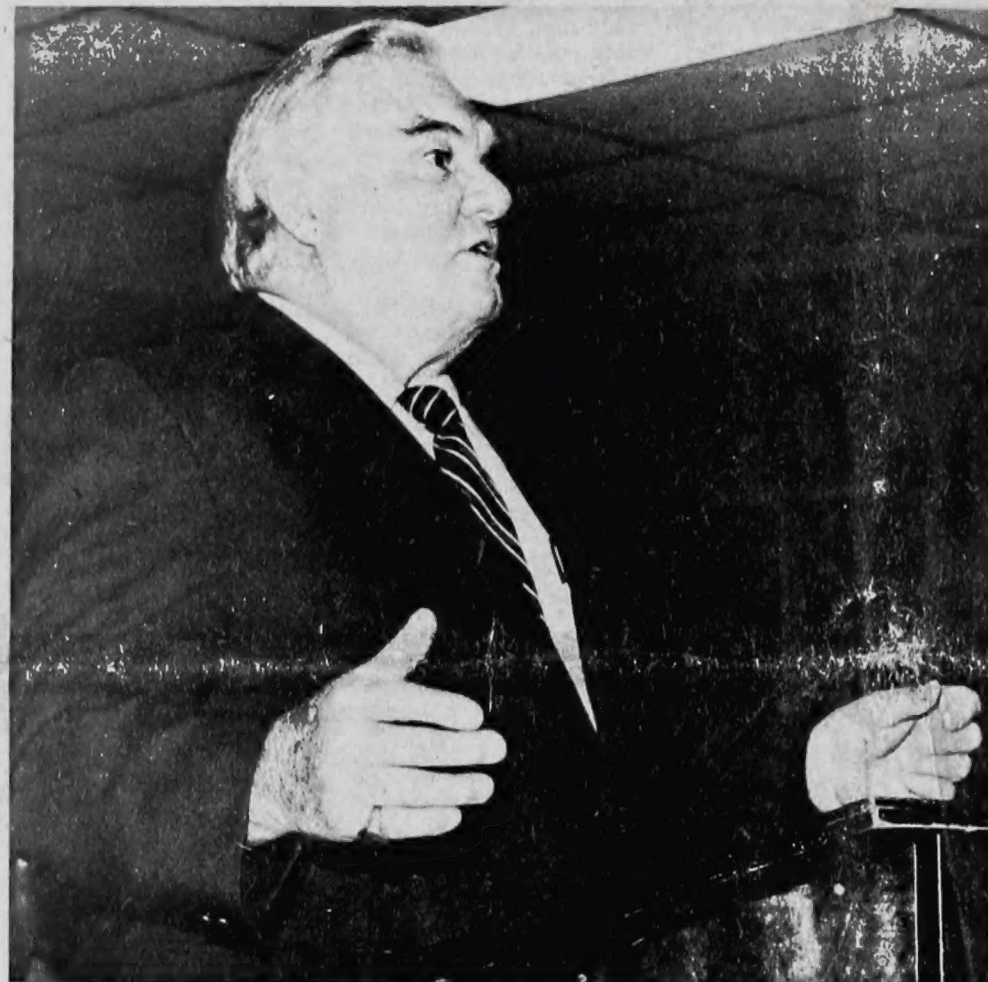

A conciliator will be appointed in an effort to get stalled contract talks between Haliburton County council and its road department employees moving again. Talks between council and the road workers, who are members of the Canadian Union of Public Employees, broke off without agreement after an all-day bargaining session, January 27.

Disabled deserve rights, 'Whipper' says

Disabled people deserve to have the same rights as any other residents in Ontario, Whipper Watson told the Minden and Haliburton Rotary clubs Monday night.

In 1981, the year of the disabled, disabled people should be assured of housing, transportation, job opportunities, support services and the education "they need to be a success," Watson said at the promotional meeting for the local Whipper Watson Snowarama for Timmy scheduled for February 7.

"This is a responsibility of you and me," he told the two clubs who coordinate the Snowarama in this area.

In the future, buildings and all community facilities should be made accessible to the disabled, Watson said.

"We must have transportation. We must have job opportunities," he added.

Snowarama, an annual fund-raising event in Ontario which is becoming popular across Canada, is one of the big money drives to help improve the facilities for the disabled, Watson said.

Every Rotarian should be like a second father to disabled children, Watson added.

"I'm interested in children who live in other towns and cities across Canada, Watson told the clubs.

The responsibility of Snowarama cannot be left on the shoulders of a few, as all members of the service clubs and snowmobilers must be involved to make it a success, he said.

Call leads to quick apprehension

Thief triggers silent alarm, pharmacy robbery thwarted

by Sue Cooper

Three days after he was released from jail, a Haliburton youth has been charged with break, enter and theft involving Haliburton Pharmacy and Dr. John Postlethwaite's dentist office.

Charged is Terrence Curtis Grant, 17, of Haliburton.

A thief was caught red-handed in the pharmacy on Haliburton's main street by OPP Constable Bill Clendenning, Auxiliary OPP Bob English and store manager Gord Woolsey, Sunday night.

Minden OPP were alerted of the break-in by a silent alarm just after 11 p.m. but because of extremely icy road conditions they contacted English, Dysart's municipal law enforcement officer, requesting that he attend the scene until a constable could arrive.

English arrived at the pharmacy at the same time as Woolsey, who had also been notified.

"Nothing looked out of the ordinary," English said Monday.

After checking all the doors in the rear of the building and also the front clinic doors, English said he could not find any that were forced open or unlocked.

While waiting for a constable to arrive, English said he and Woolsey discussed the alarm system which works on contact. (Once the contact is broken, the alarm rings at Rob Young's Communications in Minden and he notifies the police.)

In the meantime, English decided to check the buildings and doors of the pharmacy and clinic once again.

This time, he noticed footprints leading down the clinic wall to a basement window which had been smashed out.

Although the footprints led into the window, none were leading out, English said.

When Constable Clendenning arrived on the scene, neither Woolsey nor English had been able to discover anything out of the ordinary inside the pharmacy, English said.

County, Hyland Crest workers, reach new one year agreement

Haliburton County council has reached a contract settlement with its full and part-time staff at Hyland Crest senior citizens' home that includes wage increases totalling 90 cents an hour.

Negotiations between the county and the nearly 50 employees at the home who are members of the Canadian Union of Public Employees concluded two weeks ago, and the memorandum of agreement between the two sides was ratified by county council last Wednesday.

The one-year contract calls for an across the board increase of 70 cents an hour retroactive to January 1, and an additional 20 cents per hour increase effective June 1 this year.

The increase will be added to current hourly rates for full and part-time staff (excluding nurses and supervisory staff) which range from $5.52 to $6.09.

Full-time employees also won the right to belong to the Ontario municipal employees pension plan, known by the acronym OMERS.

The contract also allows for one additional holiday to be taken at the option of individual employees.

Warden Murray Fearrey said in an interview Monday that the dollar cost to the county for the new contract cannot be established until the province announces the level of grant support it will provide for the operation of the home in 1981. The increases are in line with those awarded to union workers in other senior citizens homes across the province, however, with some attempt to reflect community wage rates, the warden said.

Decision on contract signing unanimous

Glamorgan approves community centre

In a unanimous decision, Glamorgan Township council has awarded the contract for a new community centre to John Beachli Construction Enterprises Ltd. of Haliburton.

Saturday's contract signing capped more than a year of effort by council members, architects and municipal employees, and marked the first time council has been united behind the project.

Construction of the multipurpose building, valued at $227,480, will get underway early in February, with substantial completion expected in time for the May 24 long weekend.

Members of council were visibly elated at the signing, which represented a major advance along a road that has occasionally been rocky.

Reeve Ken Maguire called on the community to unite with council in seeing the project through to completion.

"If local people will cooperate, we shouldn't have any trouble," the Reeve said. "We've spent a good many hours here. It hasn't been a snap decision."

"Hopefully, we're going to get the majority of the people behind us."

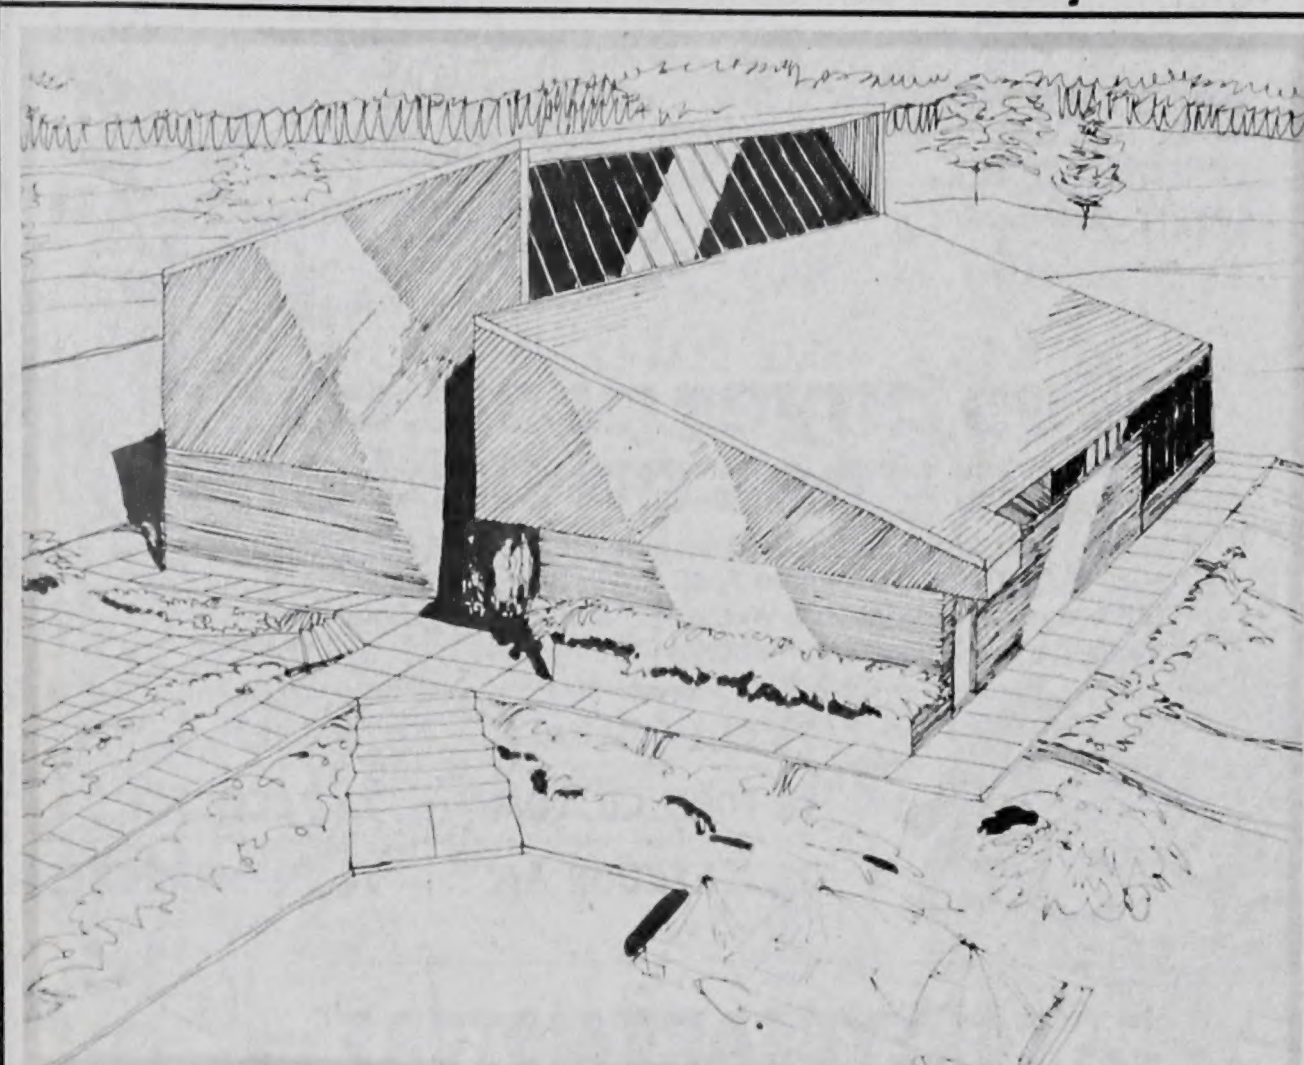

Maguire also praised township clerk Elva Bates for her efforts in securing grants for the project and in coordinating the township's planning for the centre.

Councillor R. Jane Franklin, who had opposed the project during her campaign for office in November, said she had decided to vote with the rest of council in the interests of harmony and the township's future.

Franklin noted that "since being on council, seeing the facts and figures and working for the township as a whole," she had decided to support the project.

Fund-raising efforts for the centre are well underway, with only an additional $20,000 needed to complete the public sector's share.

Estimated total cost of the project is $250,961.20, which includes the building cost of $227,480, architects fees of $20,473, and $3,000 for a well.

Grant support includes $95,628.75 from Wintario and $58,788.50 from the Ministry of Culture and Recreation under the Community Centres Act.

Private sector funding will total $47,841.38 with an additional $48,648.57 coming from 1980 and 1981 taxes.

The 4,200 square foot building will include an 'L' shaped banquet and recreation hall, a moveable stage for performances, a kitchen and servery, washrooms, storage and mechanical rooms. Anthony Campfens, of Campfens, Greer, Galloway, architect planners who designed the building and will oversee its construction, said the structure is a low energy type that should enable capital costs to be recovered more quickly than in a conventional building.

Walls will be insulated to R20, with R24 in the roof. An electric forced air furnace will be supplemented with a passive solar energy system utilizing an attic designed to trap the sun's heat behind south facing windows and a rock storage area below the floor to retain heat not used immediately by the furnace.

The building will be located approximately 400 yards south east of the present fire hall in Gooderham's municipal park.

Thief caught in pharmacy

In a brief search, Clendenning checked the rear of the building and then made the move to go through the front doors. Woolsey turned off the silent alarm before the three entered the store.

Once inside, they started walking to the rear of the store where the drug counter is located and they heard a crash.

"It sounded like somebody dropped something," English said.

The men ran to the rear of the store and saw the intruder racing for the door.

"I yelled that he was still in there," English said.

Clendenning chased the burglar who was running for an emergency exit door. The burglar hit the door at full speed, hoping the bar would open it but a key lock had been turned to shut it, English said.

The thief bounced back from the door and Clendenning grabbed him while English put handcuffs on him, English said.

The thief had a box of liquid narcotic cough medicines which had been kept in a locked cabinet, and also cash and cheques amounting to $1,007.43.

Earlier the thief had gained entry to the pharmacy through the window of Dr. Postlethwaite's office where he tore open anything that was locked, the dentist said Monday.

Although the thief created a mess in the dentist's office he only stole some minor drugs, dental instruments and syringes.

Once inside the building the thief made his way to the hallway and then opened the door which led into the pharmacy building. He then went up a stairwell into the pharmacy. At one point he went back into the dentist's office but the door had locked behind him and he pried it open with a crow bar type tool, Postlethwaite said.

The alarm was first sounded when the intruder opened the door into the pharmacy building which Woolsey said may have been left unlocked.

"There's no way we could have caught him on the scene without the alarm system," English said.

All cash, cheques and drugs were recovered.

Hard work began on the Hawk Lake log chute in Stanhope Township last week. The township received to get a grant to reconstruct the log chute.

Work begins to restore Hawk Lake chute

The restoration of the Hawk Lake log chute will be slow until most of the rubble is cleared from the river bed, Harvey Russell, project supervisor said last Thursday.

Work began on the project last Monday. Stanhope Township has received a grant for the reconstruction of the chute.

During the day, stop logs are used to close the dam, allowing only a trickle of water through, so the five men employed on the project can work in the river bed.

Before any actual reconstruction can begin the men will be busy removing old logs, stumps and trees from the old log chute area, Russell said.

Then, when a good sturdy bed is made, beams will be lowered down to the chute area, Russell said.

Although the project should last about two months, Russell said he couldn't say how complete the chute would be before the money was exhausted.

About nine years ago, the first section of the log chute was restored by the township and this new section will continue on from there.

Although the men were using a skidder to pull the old logs out of the gorge, progress seemed slow, Russell said. He was also concerned about the trouble his crew will have lowering the beams down into the gorge and placing them in position since they are green and extremely heavy.

When the men finish their day's work they remove the stop logs to allow the water to flow throughout the night.

Damage minimal in collisions last week

Damage was minimal in two separate car accidents in the area in the past week.

Last Friday evening two vehicles collided on York Street in Haliburton as a pick-up truck went out of control.

Walter Brown, 41 of RR1, Minden, was eastbound on York Street turning onto Highway 519 when his truck stalled and went out of control.

Erick Witzke, 51 of Hali-burton, was southbound on Highway 519 and tried to avoid the pick-up but couldn't.

The 1975 pick-up received $150 damage while the 1977 Plymouth was damaged to the tune of $700.

A car rear-ended another vehicle on County Road 18 because of slippery road conditions last Sunday morning.

Patrick Ledger, 55 of Willowdale, was making a left turn into a private drive when a car, driven by James Kellett, 18 of RR1, Minden, came over the crest of the hill.

Kellett tried to stop the car but it slid on the ice and he pulled into the other lane to avoid collision, but Ledger made his left hand turn at the same time.

Damage to Ledger's 1979 Ford amount to $300 while Kellett's 1977 Pontiac received $800 damage.

Maple syrup plant possible

would take place within eight years, and would involve expanded processing facilities to handle the output from 100,000 taps and two, 25,000 tap depots for sap concentration.

Because syrup production is an agricultural industry, it has a number of built-in risks, the study notes, including the unpredictability of weather. But the study also concludes that a scientific approach to the operation and effective bush management could produce yields higher than the industry average which was used in financial projections.

The operation would be capital intensive, and would involve "heavy startup and administrative costs...particularly in the early stages" according to the report. Up to $500,000 would be needed to reach the 50,000 tap level, while an operation involving 125,000 taps would require close to $1 million, county council was told.

"This capital requirement places a severe financing problem on the enterprise" according to the study. The problem might be partially overcome by government grants and capital from bush owners in the form of a tap fee convertible to shares, but "the financial picture is significantly affected by the size of the debt that would need to be carried" the study cautions.

Breakeven, based on costs in 1980 dollars, would not come before the fifth year or 50,000 taps, when volume would meet the overhead burden. At full production on 100,000 taps, the study projects a return on total investment of about 15 percent, representing a return of 13.2 percent on shareholders equity.

However, the study notes, these margins could be improved through special gift packaging of the product, marketing other maple products such as sugar, providing a local source of sap collection materials and skilled bush crews to prospective suppliers of sap, and developing a market for other Haliburton resources such as firewood.

When fully developed, the operation would provide the equivalent of eight to 12 full-time jobs, mainly in the winter months. There would also be spinoff employment in trucking, sap sales and woodlot management. As well the tourist industry could benefit from the presence of a large maple syrup operation.

If a decision is made to investigate the project further, the study recommends that the EDC contact seasonal and permanent residents who might be interested in participating in the project, and who could sit on a steering committee.

It also says the maple syrup task force should contact potential suppliers of sap to establish the rate at which supplies could be developed. Other steps along the road to development would include contacting the food companies to assess their interest in participating, determining the availability and costs of government funding that could be made available; carrying out further technical studies of various processes for sap reduction, sugar bush yield, firewood sales potential, sap transport methodology and annual tap output; and exploring other potential products that might be produced in the county.

In conclusion, Brown told county council that the concept of a central maple syrup evaporator plant in the county "is not a clear winner. On the other hand," he said, "it's not a clear loser either." "It could succeed," he said, but it would take both effort and expertise.

The EDC is expected to continue to pursue the matter through its maple syrup task force.

Copies of the 83 page feasibility study are available for public viewing at the county office and the Chamber of Commerce.

Jaws of Life coming

The actual purchase of a Jaws of Life is nearing as Stanhope firefighters recently donated close to $2,500 to raise a fund for the device. Added to the more than $5,000 which already has been accumulated in Dysart et al, fund-raising is nearly complete.

The hydraulic extractor which is used for freeing victims trapped as a result of motor vehicle collision, is worth $8,600, Dysart's clerk Wayne Wood said Monday.

When purchased, the jaws would be available in every corner of the county operated by the area fire departments, Wood said.

Talks need conciliation

Dysart et al road workers, Hyland Crest senior citizens home employees, and maintenance staff in county schools who are also CUPE members, have reached memorandums of agreement with their respective employers on 1981 contracts.

If the conciliator cannot bring the two sides together, the road workers would be in a legal position to strike 21 days after a no board report is tendered. County council would also have the option of locking the employees out 21 days after the report.

Council took that step in 1978 when contract talks with the road workers stalled.

A two-year contract was settled without serious complications in 1979.

By-law to set down property standards

After a public meeting last week which only two citizens attended, Dysart et al is in the throes of amending its official plan to allow a property standards by-law to be implemented. Although council had previously passed a property standards by-law it found an amendment to the official plan was needed to accommodate it.

The amendment, the eighth to the plan, must be approved by the Ministry of Housing before a new by-law can be enacted, planning supervisor Derrell Stamp said Monday.

When the amendment is approved, a property standards by-law which will govern maintenance of properties within Dysart et al (except for Bruton, Clyde and the eastern section of Eyre which are included in Algonquin Park) will be enacted.

"The existing level of property maintenance and occupancy standards is generally high and it is the desire of the municipal council and residents that this level be maintained in the future," the planning board's recommendation says.

In a brief account, the planning committee stated that incidents involving derelict vehicles, junk and scrap metal, houses and buildings in "unsightly" conditions on vacant properties, sub-standard housing and the storage of construction equipment on lands abutting residential properties, were concerns leading to the drafting of the amendment.

If the amendment is approved, and a property standards by-law implemented, the municipality will then be able to act on complaints of property standards from its residents, Stamp said.

Although the door is left open for the municipality to act without a direct complaint, council has indicated it would only act on complaints, Stamp said.

When a complaint is received the municipality would conduct a safety inspection and if infractions were found, a notice would be served to the owner of the property, advising him of the infractions. If the owner does not agree with the notice, he may meet with the property standards officer to discuss the matter, Stamp said.

But if no action to rectify the problem is taken by the owner, the municipality will issue an order spelling out the work needed to bring the property up to standard with a final date for notice of appeal to the property standards committee, Stamp said.

When the committee hears an appeal, it has all the rights of the officer and can adjust the charges accordingly, Stamp said.

If an owner still feels unfairly dealt with, he can appeal to a county judge by notifying the clerk 14 days after receiving notice of the committee's decision.

This is the owner's final route of appeal, Stamp said. When all appeals are exhausted and the property is still deemed sub-standard, the owner must act or the municipality will.

The property standards by-law gives the municipality the right to demolish or repair buildings that are sub-standard.

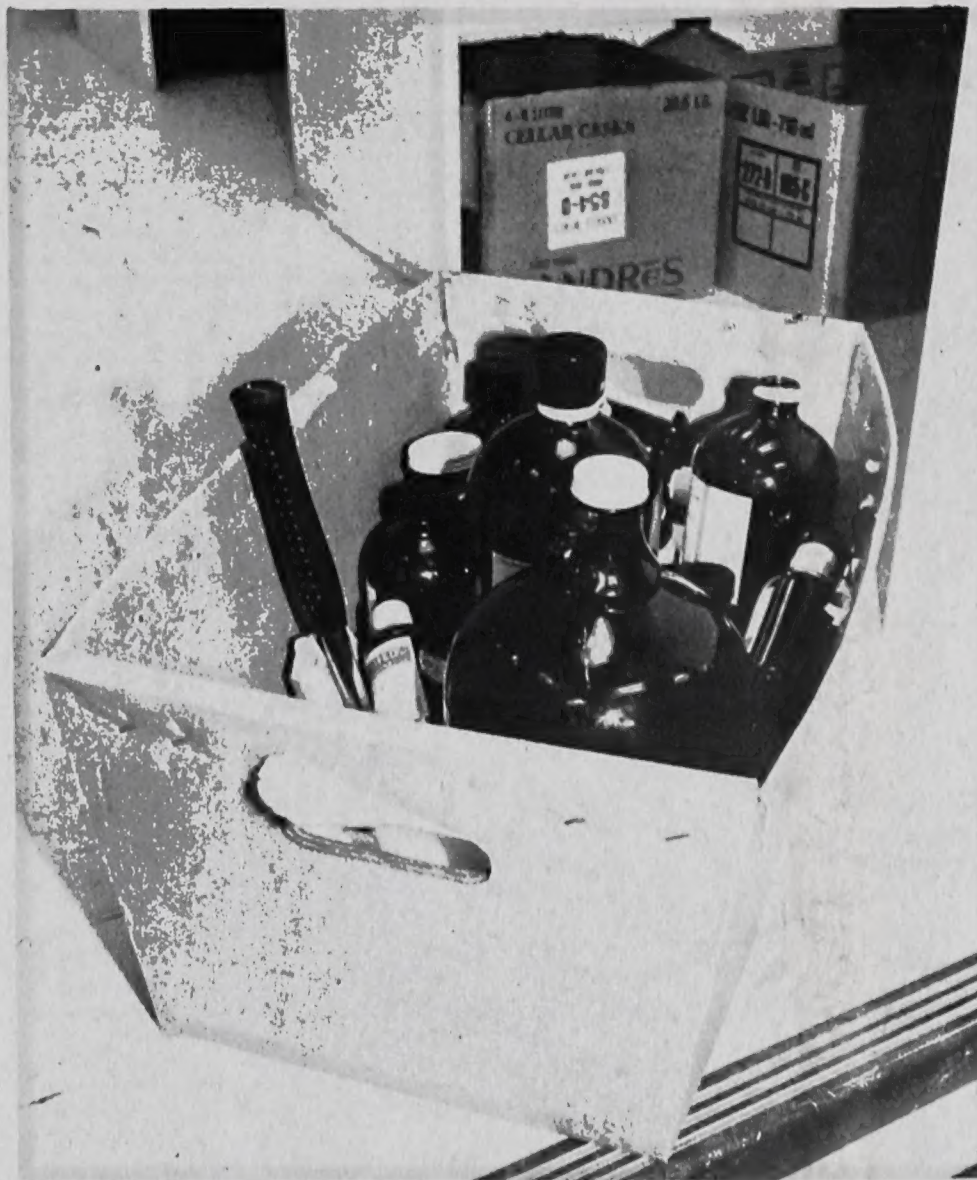

However, if an owner agrees to repair the building but does not have the money, the municipality will endeavour to arrange loans or grant to arrange loans or grants which will make it possible, Stamp said.

These loans would be classed as a loan against the property until paid in full and could be added to the property owner's tax bill, Stamp said.

Three objectives have spurred the municipality into implementing the amendment, Stamp said. These include the desire to have a good appearance in the municipality, to protect property values from declining and to encourage property management.

It will probably be summer-time before the property standards by-law can be implemented, Stamp said.

Minden Carnival set to go

The Minden Kinsmen club is trying to open up the snowbound doors of Haliburton County and let a little sunshine in, according to the president Rob Young.

And the best way to have fun in the sun in the winter-time is to make your way to the Minden Kinsmen winter carnival. Chocked full of three days of action-packed fun, the carnival is the only place to be this weekend.

"Over the past few years we've been trying to keep up with the winter events," but the carnival committee is also trying to encourage individual participation, Young said.

The Kinsmen want people to walk in off the streets and feel completely welcome to participate in the outdoor events without necessarily having a snowmachine, Young said.

The carnival spirit will move into full swing Friday at 8 p.m. as the official opening ceremonies will be hosted by reeve Lloyd Walker, warden Murray Fearrey, MPP John Eakins and MP Bill Scott, Young said.

Then the lucky girl to be chosen carnival queen will be crowned to enjoy the carnival from the most sought-after position. If any girls haven't put their name in the contest yet, don't miss the opportunity. Contact John Robinson at 457-2971 to enter.

Saturday will be highlighted with the best of entertainment provided by the car races on ice at South Lake, the hockey tournament, great tugs-of-war and the ever-popular arm wrestling.

The skill-testing Snowdeo will also entertain the snowmobiler in all of us as well as the snowmobile safari and drag races winning over the carnival-goers.

Sunday's action will also be on the increase this year as more exciting snowmobile drags thrill riders and the crowds. As well for the inside crowd Bluegrass North will be providing excellent entertainment in the Crow's Nest.

Make sure you don't miss the Minden carnival this weekend. You could be the only one who did.

New guidelines on allowance closures do nothing to simplify complex process

Ontario's Ministry of Housing has established a set of guidelines for municipalities that want to consider closing and selling off shoreline road allowances to adjacent property owners.

The guidelines, released at a meeting of Haliburton County council last Wednesday, are substantially the same as guidelines drafted by the county last year and submitted to the Ministry of Housing for comment.

Purpose of the Ministry's guidelines, according to the information received by council, is to assist municipalities in their consideration of applications for closure and sale of shoreline road allowances and to highlight provincial concerns affected by road allowance sales.

The guidelines are as follows: Lands Which Should Be Reserved:

1. Road allowances or portions of an allowance on or leading to water that are or will be used for public waterfront recreational uses, public access, emergency access, public travel and portage or other municipal purposes should be reserved.

2. Shoreline road allowances in urban areas or areas where waterfront community development is likely to occur should be reserved.

3. Any portions that contain, abut, or provide access to important fish spawning areas, wildlife habitat or other environmentally sensitive features should be reserved.

4. Where significant historical or cultural features have been identified on a road allowance on or leading to water, those portions should be reserved.

5. Those portions of the road allowance that the municipality intends to reserve should be indicated. A description of the location of the reserved road allowances should be provided. Lands Which May Be Sold, Provided the Municipality Agrees:

6. Shoreline road allowances may be closed by the municipality and sold to landowners abutting the road allowance only when it has been determined that other adjoining landowners will not be deprived of access, and that suitable alternative public access to the waterfront is available.

7. Only the portion of road allowance above the natural or regulated highwater mark may be sold.

8. Lands that are subject to flooding or other hazards may be sold. However, any construction or placement of fill on these lands will be subject to the approval of the Conservation Authority and/or the Ministry of Natural Resources.

Purchase of Shoreline Road Allowance:

10. In determining the area to be closed and sold, the property boundaries should be drawn from the ends of the present lot line perpendicular to the shore and not by extending the lot lines. Where this creates hardship for an owner, the lot lines may be determined by agreement of the adjoining owners and the municipality. In all cases, all abutting lot owners should be ensured of shore access.

11. When determining the costs involved in the disposal of road allowances on or leading to water, municipalities should adopt a procedure that establishes their charges. It should set out all costs and should indicate the basis of the amounts charged. Proceeds from such sales are to be kept in a special account and used for park and recreational purposes. The purchaser will be expected to pay for legal and survey costs if they are applicable.

When a municipality intends to close up and sell a road allowance on or leading to water, certain procedures are involved before the transaction can be completed. Generally the municipality must pass by-laws for closure and sale, and where the road allowance on or leading to water is shown on an original survey, the by-law(s) must be approved by the Minister of Housing. This summary of the procedures is intended to guide municipalities and the public when they are dealing with applications for the closure and sale of shoreline road allowances.

The applicant (abutting owner) - submits a written application to the municipality indicating reason for request; - if council approves application, may be requested to provide surveyor's description of subject lands for submission to Ministry of Housing.

The municipality - reviews application in relation to its adopted policies, and ensures that nearby owners will not be deprived of satisfactory access; (arbitration may be required if agreement cannot be reached)

Flu got you down? You're not alone!

by Sue Cooper

If it seems like everyone you know either has had the flu or is beginning to come down with it, well, don't feel too bad, it seems everyone else across Ontario is also coming in contact with the flu this winter.

As the final three weeks of flu season get underway, Dr. D.G. Mikel, medical health officer for the Haliburton, Kawartha, PineRidge District Health unit said Monday, the incidence of flu has been a little higher in the past two weeks than in the same period over the past two years. In the first two weeks of the season, however, there was a lower incidence than in the same period in 1979 and 1980, the MOH said.

If you come down with this year's strain, 'A Bankok', there is nothing to do except "get to bed early and get lots of rest and fluids," Dr. Mikel said. This not only helps the patient shake the flu faster but it also protects others from coming in contact with it.

"It isn't fair to everyone else, to be in public with the flu," Mikel said.

If you're hoping that you might avoid the bug altogether, however, Mikel suggests that you shop during off-peak hours and stay away from highly congested areas like theatres.

In other words, become as close to a recluse as possible.

Although we may be tempted to blame the frigid temperatures for bringing this disease on us, Dr. Mikel said there is no connection.

There is some bright news, however, among the aches and fevers. The 'A Bankok' strain is not as serious as the flu strain last year, Dr. Mikel said. "People are sick but not as sick as usual," he said.

Remember if you make it until mid-February without catching the flu virus you'll probably be safe. But if you don't, maybe next November you'll remember to get your flu vaccine. It won't do any good now.

A chance

If the conclusions of a feasibility study for a central maple syrup evaporator plant did not seem entirely positive when they were made public at a meeting of Haliburton County council last week, they appeared to be realistic. And while the study made it clear that a plant cannot be established without significant financial risk and countless hours of further groundwork, it also presented the challenge in forthright terms. What now remains is to decide whether the concept has enough merit to be pursued by county residents and local politicians.

When the idea of a central plant first surfaced at a meeting of the then fledgling economic development commission two years ago, it was greeted with healthy skepticism by many. For while a number of local producers have shown that small and medium scale production can be a viable enterprise, the costs and complications of establishing a large scale operation for so seasonal an industry seemed likely to be prohibitive. And if the financing had to be confined to the local level, they would be. But the feasibility study presented last week has shown that the concept has a chance of success if it can attract the backing of the government through low interest loans and of a major food company, which would provide essential marketing expertise. And just as importantly, the study concludes that if it is to work, the evaporator plant will require the backing of the community as a whole, if not financially, at least in spirit.

The study envisions the development of the facility in stages over a ten year period, adding approximately 12,500 taps per year until a level of 100,000 to 125,000 taps is reached. Capital costs in 1980 dollars to reach that level would be close to $1 million. At the 50,000 tap level, reached approximately five years after the project is initiated, and at a cost of up to $500,000, the project could reach a break-even position. At full development of 100,000 or more taps, the return on the investment would be approximately 15 per cent, the feasibility study concludes.

From these figures it is clear that the evaporator plant concept by itself would be a marginal operation at best, especially when the potential return is balanced against the substantial risks involved. But the consultants point out that other factors which could make the plant more profitable, and which could provide a number of spinoff benefits for the county, were not included in the projected financial statements that form part of the feasibility study.

If the break-even point could be reached in less than five years, the financial picture would be more favourable as a result of reduced interest costs. For that to happen, bush owners would have to cooperate to the utmost, both in developing their lands and in accepting shares in the corporation in lieu of tap rental fees.

The involvement of a major food company could also help to make the operation more viable through effective marketing and distribution of specialty products produced in conjunction with the syrup.

Bush management would result in better quality trees and potentially higher yields of syrup per acre. A firewood operation might also be established in conjunction with the management program, although the consultants caution that it might do no more than break even. Still, if it provided jobs, it would have some spinoff benefit to the local economy.

Another important factor that could help to make the evaporator plant viable is its potential to attract tourists. If established, the plant would quickly become the largest in the province, putting Haliburton County on the map as a place to experience one of the traditions of spring.

Clearly the evaporator plant concept has a number of positive aspects. But if it is to become a reality, much work remains to be done. It is to be hoped that those who have seen it this far will be willing to take up the challenge.

The home stretch

Glamorgan Township council breathed a collective sigh of relief Saturday when it unanimously voted to award the contract for its new community centre to John Beachli Construction Enterprises Ltd., of Haliburton. The decision represented both an end and a beginning. For council, it was the end of a planning process that has gone less than smoothly, as it wrestled with opposition among its own ranks and among some members of the community. And it was also the beginning of an intense four months of activity that council believes will result in a better community.

The hardest part is over. Now council and the community can look forward to the day, in mid May, when the centre opens.

There will still be problems to overcome and funds to be raised. But in the spirit of unity and cooperation that now prevails, the challenges of the next four months should be easy to face.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

To the Editor:

I would like to inform you that the parents and players of the Georgetown Minor Pee Wees thoroughly enjoyed their weekend in Haliburton during your Minor Pee Wee Tournament. The players had a terrific time with their billets and we would like to thank them all for putting themselves out to make the players feel at home and add to their life experiences.

The parents stayed at Deer Lodge and were treated royally. Their staff went to much extra effort with untimely and extra meals and help with cars, especially Jim and John, who worked all day trying to get our cars going in the extreme cold.

We will recommend a visit to your town and to Deer Lodge to all those we know.

Thank you very much!

To the Editor:

Noticed in last week's paper, an editor's note on the sports page regarding Huskies' write-ups. I will agree that there have been no write-ups submitted to your paper by myself, for reasons that I will not try to explain. However, this week I have submitted a Huskies report. Please try and display it as prominently as your editor's note of last week with all the fancy art work and flamboyancy.

Sincerely,

To the Editor:

On behalf of the staff of the Bank of Montreal in Haliburton, I would like to thank everyone in the community who donated knitted items for our "Warm and Woolley Tree" in the spirit of Christmas.

All items donated were given to the Salvation Army to be distributed to needy families in the area for Christmas.

We are, at this time, planning on making this an annual event, with the assistance of the Salvation Army.

A special thank you goes out to Creighton Feir, who provided coverage in his column, the Salvation Army for their participation and to Barbara Allison, a member of our staff, whose suggestion it was to sponsor the Warm and Woolley Tree project.

Again thanks to everyone in the community who supported our effort and we look forward to your participation in the 1981 "Warm and Woolley Tree".

Haliburton County council found itself debating the merits of the local Chamber of Commerce at a meeting last Wednesday, following a report from its representative on the Chamber, Lutterworth reeve Ron Gambell. With perhaps a touch of the devil's advocate, Gambell gave council a solid pep talk on the merits of the Chamber, and on its need for support from county council. He stressed that members of the Chamber's board are volunteers who work trying to do the best they can with a limited budget and limited expertise. He admitted that all is not perfect, but suggested that the board was willing to listen to suggestions.

That is a view with which a number of county politicians appeared to disagree. Stanhope reeve Jim Harrison, Monmouth reeve Keith Tallman and Anson, Hindon and Minden reeve Lloyd Walker all found reason to quarrel with the Chamber's activities over the past year. All appeared to feel that the Chamber is doing less than it could to promote the highlands. And although they were not specific about what might be done to improve the situation, weak areas in the Chamber's promotional effort are not hard to identify.

Although it feels that spring and fall business are less strong than they could be, it has done little to change the situation. It has produced little, if any, promotional material extolling the merits of either season. As the public's response to this newspaper's fall tour section proved, there is a need for material which generates interest in various areas of the county, and which spells out ways in which the beauty of the highlands can be enjoyed.

The Chamber's Lure book, continues to improve every year, but it has a long way to go before it becomes as slick and attractive as the material produced to promote other areas. It would gain much if a professional photographer were hired to take top quality pictures of scenes and activities around the county. A skilled promotional copy writer could do much to add punch to material that has been used essentially unchanged year after year.

A publication should also be considered which takes a detailed look at the county's attractions and activities. It could be handed out to people who visit the Highlands, giving them suggestions on how to enjoy many of the attractions that now are found largely by chance, if at all.

In Muskoka, a winter and summer guide are published in tabloid newspaper form on high quality newsprint stock. These give information on local resorts, activities, ski and snowmobile trails. They provide the visitor with information and ideas in a handy, and inexpensive form. There is no reason that the same thing could not be done here.

Feir Play

The spotlight will be on the Village of Minden this weekend when the Kinsmen Club of Minden with the cooperation of the various organizations and people of Minden and area present the 1981 version of the Minden Kinsmen Winter Carnival. Months of planning and preparations have gone into the making of this big winter event and without doubt this should be one of the biggest and best winter carnivals in the history of that village. The citizens of Minden are beginning to get excited as the big weekend draws near. If you are planning on attending this big event, here are just a few of the many exciting activities in store for you. Curling bonspiel, figure skating, carnival queen contest, hockey tournament, parade, snowmobile drag races, snowdeo, snowmobile safari, pole climbing, log sawing, children's events, ladies and men's arm wrestling, old-timers hockey game, broomball tournament, and many other features for your enjoyment. It promises to be a weekend that will supply plenty of good old-time winter fun and frolic. Why not plan now to take along the entire family to this winter extravaganza.

On Monday night I had the opportunity of being present at the Minden Community Centre for the joint meeting of the Haliburton and Minden Rotary Clubs when the guest speaker was none other than Whipper Billy Watson, who was speaking to the men on the subject of Snowarama and what the money will do to help the disabled children of this province. This was the first time that I had heard Whipper speak and I was certainly impressed to hear this sincere gentleman speak on the subject which is very near and dear to his heart and that is children who have a disability.

Jack Hope, a professional forester and lumberman by trade was a recent speaker at the Rotary Club of Haliburton. He gave a very interesting talk on the Rotary Timber Salvage Operation subsequent to the hurricane that hit the island in 1979, which he headed, with matching financial assistance from C.I.D.A., on the Island of Dominica in the West Indies. It appears to have been a success to date and an example to follow for future C.I.D.A. subsidized projects. Jack is certainly to be congratulated on his efforts. It appears by his acquired knowledge of the timber on the island, the soil conditions, terrain, etc. that he was most definitely the expert needed for the job as he appears to have addressed every potential problem before they appeared.

It was certainly nice to see two of our local citizens in Sinc Nesbitt and Elgin Stouffer on site as part of team; Sinc in charge of timber removal from the forest and Elgin in charge of the set-up and operation of the saw mill.

The Lake Kashagawigamog Tourist Association and the Haliburton Minor Hockey Association who are co-sponsors of three hockey tournaments during the winter are at the present time faced with a major problem. They are trying desperately to find persons to take billets for the Atom Hockey Tournament to be held at Haliburton on February 13, 14, 15. Anyone who would be willing to help out please call Betty Salvatori at 457-1657 or Karen Bannister 457-1347.

Nancy Brink, owner of Nancy's Flowers in Haliburton, told me that something happened last week that has renewed her faith in human nature. Her store is closed on Wednesdays and last Wednesday she apparently left the front door open and people just walked in and looked around. A local person phoned her to tell her that the store was open so when she arrived at the store she found that nothing had been taken and everything was in order. In these days of gloom and doom it sure is nice to hear some good news for a change.

Three Toronto Rotary Clubs are spending a weekend at Deer Lodge and members of the Rotary Club of Haliburton have been invited for a buffet and dance this Saturday evening, January 31 at 6:30 p.m.

It must be hard for the local municipal officials to know just what to do with some of the merchants in Haliburton who insist on parking their vehicles on the main street and particularly in front of their place of business. If everyone in the beginning had just used a little bit of common-sense we wouldn't have the parking meter in today. I have been told that this problem is getting out of hand once again and that a crackdown on the offenders can be expected in the not too distant future. How in the world can we make room for out of town shoppers to park when most of the parking spots are occupied by local businessmen. I know what I am talking about because when I was in business on the main street I used to park there myself.

The TOPS organization (take off pounds sensibly) have finally found a meeting place. They meet every Wednesday evening at 7 p.m. at the library at the Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School.

If you require the assistance of your Provincial Constituency office, John Eakins, M.P.P., invites you to take advantage of the toll free line serving all citizens in Victoria and Haliburton Counties. For provincial assistance please call 1-800-461-7672.

When you are keeping dates in mind don't forget Saturday, February 7; that's the day for Snowarama. Now is the time to pick up your pledge sheets and get them filled out before the big day arrives.

It's Centennial year in the Township of Monmouth, 1881 - 1981. The Centennial committee tell me that they have great events lined up for the coming year and they will soon be underway. We wish the people in that area the best of luck.

Queen's Park Report

by MPP John Eakins

In the last eight or nine years, the fundamental problem in the establishment of public policy in Ontario has been an unwillingness to pay attention to trends, trends which have been pretty obvious to anyone who'd take the time to look at them. There's been a sort of governing in response to crises, governing by waiting until things were so evident that the average citizen was already being affected by the results of trends, and then scrambling to do something about them in a sort of "ad hoc" way.

For example, the major problem we've got in Ontario - a problem we've had since the late 70's - has been that our province has fallen to becoming the tenth and last province in Canada in terms of economic growth. In addition, the Conference Board has recently issued a report which predicts that Ontario will lag far behind the Canadian economy for the next year and a half as well. We're actually pulling down the national average!

Now you may say, what could we have done about that, how were we supposed to know this was going to happen? Well, if you recall, our international trade deficit in manufactured products has been growing steadily year by year for the last six or seven years, and this year it's predicted to reach about $18.6 billion. The country has stayed afloat, basically, by exporting an equivalent amount in surplus raw materials and partially processed materials. In essence, the manufacturing sector has gone steadily downwards, and it's been one of the underlying strains in Confederation that the resource-producing part of this country has got the feeling that somehow they're endlessly having to ship resources out in order to support the manufacturing part of the country which is becoming less and less competitive in world terms. And the resource producers are starting to resent it.

If our manufacturing sector were truly world class and rushing ahead into new markets and becoming more and more successful, surely the people of Alberta would be just a little happier with us and just a little less resentful of what they see as our desire to take their resources and to squander them in some way. You could see the manufacturing sector losing ground year by year, and one of the main reasons for that has been a lack of willingness to do research and development, to develop new products, to go abroad and market our products into new markets. The reason for that lack of research and development is that most of our manufacturing is branch plant manufacturing, and although most of these branch plants do a fairly decent job in what they're supposed to be doing, very few of them are supposed to be developing new products here or taking their products and marketing them abroad. The vast majority of them are here to market products developed elsewhere and assembled here to be sold only to the Canadian market.

There are exceptions, of course, but in general terms this is what's happening.

What we need is a policy that favours manufacturing and particularly Canadian-owned small and medium sized businesses, because the engine of economic growth that will get this province moving again, which will create jobs for our young people, will be the growth of small and medium-sized businesses into large businesses and then into large multinational businesses. But the branch plant mentality of this province, which made us prosperous in the 40's, 50's and 60's, has been dragging us down in the late seventies and eighties.

You may want to lay blame on a number of different levels of government or different kinds of industry, but if it isn't up to Ontario and its government to promote the main industries of the province, then who's going to do it for us?

Perhaps most importantly, the Chamber, in conjunction with county council, should consider undertaking a professional promotional campaign that would raise people's awareness of Haliburton County, particularly in the Toronto market. According to a Toronto-based representative of one of the world's largest advertising firms, such a campaign could be undertaken for as little as $60,000. That money would buy the creative services of an advertising firm and space year round on two outdoor sign boards. The key would be to use photography and snappy copy to generate an awareness of the county's attractions. The brilliance of autumn, the exhilaration of cross country skiing, the rugged beauty of the county's lakes in summer, the emerging vitality of spring could all be expressed in a few bold words and pictures. The ad would tell people to call a certain number (perhaps toll free) for more information. Once an individual's interest was aroused, it would be important to follow through with good material that would provide the information he or she needed to make a decision on whether to visit the highlands, where to stay and when.

These are but a few of the possibilities. There is much that could be done. To accomplish it, both the Chamber and county council will have to work together. And if that is going to happen, the Chamber will have to drop its defenses and take a realistic look at itself. And county council will have to be willing to put up more money than it has so far been providing.

Easter Seal changes name from crippled to disabled

The oldest and largest children's charity in Canada is changing its public identification from the 'Ontario Society of Crippled Children' to The Easter Seal Society.

Formed by ten service clubs in 1922 to coordinate and develop provincially the services rendered by the clubs locally, the Society has developed to embrace 236 service clubs across Ontario and now serves more than 6,000 families of physically handicapped children.

The significant change from the former name to the current name is the dropping of the word 'crippled'. "There has been growing concern about retaining a name which appeared to attach a label to the disabled individual," said Ian Bain, Executive Director of the Society. "Parents of disabled children and older disabled persons have expressed their regret at our retention of the word 'crippled'. "The Society's decision to change its public name was not made lightly," according to Bain.

Sorry About That!

We are still getting calls asking why the Minden Winter Carnival was announced on countless T.V. and radio stations as taking place last weekend rather than this weekend coming. For the benefit of those who did not read about this in an earlier column we shall explain it again.

According to the information the Chamber had last August when these dates are submitted for circulation by the Ministry of Industry and Tourism the Minden Winter Carnival was taking place on that weekend. The carnival always takes place on the last weekend of January but when the month ends on a weekend it creates some confusion as to which weekend is in fact the last. When our accommodation guide was printed with the incorrect date in November we became aware of the problem and immediately notified all those who had received our releases earlier but the wheels once set in motion are difficult to adjust.

It points out just how important it is to have these dates firmly set well ahead of time and the Chamber notified accordingly. Our deadline to promote your summer events for this year is March 1 - just over a month away!

No Room at the Inn

Further problems created by the first of the month following on a weekend have been created when different organizations reading the calendar in various ways ended up with many activities taxing accommodations to the limit on February 14, 15 weekend. The Chamber has been trying desperately to find facilities to house participants in two hockey tournaments, a curling bonspiel and two weddings all happening that weekend.

Anyone aware of any available accommodation at that time is urged to call the Chamber at 286-1760 and provide us with the details. Tournament organizers in Haliburton are also desperate for homes to billet Atom (10 year old) hockey players. If you an assist in that department call Betty Salvatori 457-1657.

County Fair Time

Not until August 8 of course, but it is time for the annual meeting of the Minden Agricultural Society, the body that runs the fair, to take place. Anyone interested in the fair or any other functions of the association should plan to attend and provide their input. The election of officers will take place at that time. The meeting is scheduled for 8:00 p.m., Wednesday, February 4 at the Minden municipal offices.

Chamber Director's Meeting

The next Chamber board meeting will be held at the Lakeview Centre in Haliburton on Wednesday, February 4 at 7:30 p.m. Members are always welcome at any board meeting. Although members may not take part directly in discussions you may find some of the items on the agenda of interest.

OMHA Bantams take tourney Haliburton racked up its third championship trophy

by Bob MacNaull

Haliburton OMHA Bantams claimed their third tournament championship of the season when they won the LeFroy Minor Hockey Bantam tournament on the weekend.

The Haliburton team captured the championship by douring Rockton 4-2 in the final after defeating Ennismore 4-2 and the host team LeFroy 12-1.

Haliburton's opening game against Ennismore was a close affair with Ennismore's goal tender Ken Lavigne playing splendid goal. It wasn't until the mid-way point of the second period that Mike MacNaull broke the scoreless deadlock on passes from Kevin Warburton and Brett Ashton.

In the third period Haliburton widened the gap to 4-0 on goals by Chris LaPorte and Kelly Mitchell. Ennis-more scored two goals in the dying minutes of the game to make the final score Haliburton - 4, Ennismore - 2.

The second game for Haliburton against the host LeFroy team proved to be the most interesting of the tournament. In the first period with Haliburton leading 1-0 and the game certainly in doubt, Haliburton received four minor penalties totalling eight minutes, on one call. LeFroy had an excellent opportunity to tie the game and go ahead with the manpower advantage. However, the Haliburton boys dug in their collective heels and not only prevented LeFroy from scoring, but scored two short-handed goals of their own to take a 3-0 lead.

The game became chippy in the second and third periods and either through frustration or madness the LeFroy team pulled their goal tender with more than six minutes remaining on the clock. At the time Haliburton led 5-1. By the end of the game Haliburton had scored seven empty net goals to win 12-1.

Steve Dodd played some splendid goal in the early going, when Haliburton was under pressure.

Goal scorers for Haliburton were Mike MacNaull with four, Chris LaPorte with two and singles to Barry Boice, Rick Barnum, Bernie Upton, Kelly Mitchell, Brett Ashton and Drew Bishop.

The championship game had Haliburton playing against an aggressive team from Rockton. However, Rockton's aggressiveness did not pay off for them as Haliburton scored two power play goals on their way to an easy 4-2 win.

Steve Dodd was again solid in goal for the winners. Haliburton goals were scored by Chris LaPorte with two, Brett Ashton and Bernie Upton, one apiece. Mike MacNaull assisted on three goals and was selected the outstanding player of the game.

Haliburton OMHA Bantams won the championship and grand championship trophies at a Burk's Falls minor hockey tournament on January 10 and 11.

Seven teams participated in the tournament including Burk's Falls, South River, Sundridge, Powasson, Huntsville, Haliburton and an E.P.S. all-star team.

In their opening game of the tournament Haliburton scored an easy win over Huntsville 10-0. Haliburton took an early lead, scoring five goals in the first period and held the Huntsville boys to three scoreless periods.

Kelly Mitchell lead the way with four goals and Mike MacNaull picked up a pair. Single goals went to Drew Bishop, Brett Ashton, Rick Barnum and Bernie Upton. Steve Dodd picked up his first shut-out of the season.

In the championship game against a tough team from Powasson, Haliburton struck early on a goal scored by Mike MacNaull, assisted by Barry

Boice and Brett Ashton. In the second period, Haliburton widened the gap to 3-0 on goals scored by Kelly Huskies fading as Jr. C season closes

by Bill Davis

The curtain has all but fallen on the 80-81 version of the Haliburton Huskies.

Last Saturday at the Dysart aren a the Huskies dropped a 7-1 decision to the Bracebridge Juniors. The visitors outscored the Huskies three to one in the first, both had two each in the second and the visitors racked up two more in the third while the Huskies added one. There was a total of 25 penalties in the game with Haliburton picking up 14, including a major to Chris Hodgson and a match penalty to Chapman which means both players will be out for the next game. In the goal scoring department, Ron Yake led the locals with two goals while single markers went to Manary and Chapman.

The Huskies have two games left and trail the sixth place Oro 77's by two points. If the Huskies should win their remaining two games and Oro loses, the Huskies will make the playoffs. If the Huskies win one of the two remaining games and Oro should lose then it becomes a tie. At this point goals for and against will decide. Needless to say the balance lies in the Huskies' hand as they take on the Gravenhurst team this Saturday at home. A loss in this game would undoubtedly make it curtain time for the Huskies but on the other hand in front of a home town crowd a win would certainly make it exciting to the wire for the local boys.

Fishing survey conducted by Ministry

A survey on sportfishing in Ontario will be carried out early in 1981 by Ontario's Ministry of Natural Resources in conjunction with the federal Department of Fisheries and Oceans, Ontario's Natural Resources Minister James Auld announced.

"The last survey was carried out in 1975, and up-to-date information is required to manage effectively for the demands that will be placed on Ontario's fisheries in the next decade," Auld said.

Questionnaires will be mailed to two groups: 7,500 non-residents chosen from 1980 Ontario angling licence holders, and 40,000 randomly chosen Ontario residents.

Not all of the Ontario residents receiving the questionnaire will be anglers. The participation in the survey by non-fishing residents is necessary to get a cross-section sampling for unbiased results. Non-fishermen will be required to answer only a

Darkness hides police from snowmobile rider

With darkness acting as the perfect camouflage, Minden OPP waited on snowmobiles hoping that a snowmobile thief might use his former route, last Monday night.

Early last Monday morning, a snowmobile had been discovered missing from Haliburton Marine on Highway 121. Tracks from the machine led onto Grass Lake and beyond.

That night, police set up their stake-out and soon a machine went whizzing past with its lights off.

After a chase through fields, down roads and through the bush, police finally caught up to the snowmobile.

Charged with possession of stolen property over $200 is Brian Nicholson, 20 of Donald, Adam Nicholson, 18 and Dennis Purnell, 17, also of Donald are also charged in connection with the theft of the machine.

The snowmobile was valued at $4,000.

Mitchell and Chris LaPorte. Barry Boice drew an assist on Mitchell's goal and LaPorte was set up by Brett Ashton and Drew Bishop.

Haliburton rounded out the scoring in the third period when Barry Boice scored from Bernie Upton and Kelly Mitchell. Steve Dodd again played flawless in goal to earn his second shut-out. Final score was Haliburton - 4 and Powassan - 0.

On the final day of the tournament Haliburton was matched against an all-star team from the E.P.S. league, in the grand championship game.

The all-stars proved to be no match for the Haliburton boys, who came out flying and took a 5 - 0 first period lead. The game finished 10 - 0 in favour of Haliburton with Steve Dodd picking up his third consecutive shut-out.

Brett Ashton and Kelly Mitchell registered hat tricks, while singles went to Vince Duchene, Bernie Upton and Mike MacNaull, to round out the scoring.

We won't mention names, but there are certain snowmobile dealers in this area who might offer you a sled at an incredibly low price. At Ski-Doo, we'd like to say one thing: "Take a good look!"

Before you give in to temptation and buy a low priced snowmobile, ask yourself these four questions:

1. Is there somebody to back up the guarantee? Better still, is there a guarantee?
2. Can you be sure of adequate service this year and in future years?
3. What about spare parts? Think ahead. Will you always be able to get them?
4. What will your resale value be... tomorrow? Next year? In two years?

If you're buying a snowmobile, don't snap at the first good price you see. Ask yourself if it's good value. You'll never regret buying good value: you'll find it at your Ski-Doo dealer's.

Take a good look.

The week started with a kick at the ball at our fun and fitness program. We are pleased to have Mr. and Mrs. Shorter and Mrs. Lola Prentice, who are new residents attending our session. Everyone has a lot of fun exercising their bodies to lively fiddle music. Monday afternoon, the ladies went to the craft room to work on their projects. The quilt is coming along nicely. It will soon be ready to put on the frames.

There was a real good turnout to the movies later in the evening. A Walk In The Forest was a beautiful nature film which took us through a magnificent forest in British Columbia. We saw how all kinds of wildlife depend on the forests for their very existence. We saw the change of seasons and how the animals prepare for it. Also we saw how fire destroys the forest and everything that exists within it.

The Chassis was presented by General Motors. This film told us all about the running gear of a car, and how it operates. The residents enjoyed both movies very much. Tuesday morning, Rev. Douglas Miller of Minden United Church held Communion service in the Chapel.

Agnes Taylor played the organ while we sang some spiritual hymns. In the afternoon several residents gathered in the lounge for a game of bingo. Our thanks to Joan Kernohan and Helen Lee for helping.

Wednesday evening, the residents thoroughly enjoyed Games Night. Mr. and Mrs. Percy Drysdale, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Coleman, and Mr. and Mrs. Stan Blears, who are auxiliary members, helped with euchre, cribbage and crokinole. The games night is becoming very popular and is an event everyone looks forward to once a week.

The U.C.W. of Carnarvon brought an assortment of tea breads, muffins and cookies for the Thursday tea party.

Everyone enjoyed the tasty treats and their visit with the ladies. Our thanks to them for a really nice afternoon.

Thursday evening, the Kinsmen were here to call the numbers for the weekly bingo game. I understand there were quite a few lucky winners.

Extensicare News

by Dr. W.O. Anderson

The jigsaw puzzle is going together but slowly, over half completed and two empty spots built around. It is the most fascinating puzzle we have had despite the vacancies, and only 750 pieces to begin. Some people tell us of working on 3000 pieces and we may come to one of those yet allowing us three months to put it together.

The broken arm is now half as strong and therefore must be half better. It is funny how the whole arm keeps nudging the injured one to do more, being somewhat irked about having to do the work of both the last few weeks.

The miniature geranium is in full flower for the past ten days and is really cute. One of our angel wing begonias is in beautiful flower like a big bunch of pink grapes. They are not neglected despite our pastime having several chocolate soldier episcias in gorgeous foliage that soon should be in flower besides. The hardware cloth sleeve contraption we described a few issues back is now filling out with greenery and provides a very interesting gadget.

Again on Tuesday, June Devolin conducted Bible study, continuing the same theme, the fruits of the Holy Spirit. Last week it was peace, this time it was patience; what a wonderful word and what a big subject that covers particularly Job's turmoil, but also doing a jigsaw, or putting discipline into your fingers to play many musical instruments or always brushing the teeth on routine, or learning to skate or ski, or bicycle and many, many more disciplines that require patience. Probably you never realized that it is God's will that you do it. It probably solves more problems than any other of the fruits.

In the afternoon was bingo with a very welcome volunteer, Betty Wise. It was a nice game with Ray Smith and Allan Macklin calling alternately. The turnout at these sessions is improving. Naturally we can expect some of us fuddydudies to have some hearing impairment that in bingo needs repeated calls, the result being lively and funny. And what would any game be like without fun?

A new plant has attracted more interest belonging to Helen Andrew whose husband brought her a beautiful amaryllis. It has a stalk about two feet long and because the flower buds are heavy it toppled over, giving Helen some anxiety and her reaction was to take it to one whom she thought was an expert. All it needed was some extra soil, more to add weight and stability than anything, after which the four flower buds started to open wide, one after another, to reveal huge pink giant size flowers that are magnificent, a great attraction. Not to be outdone and to support the theory that it never rains without pouring Nine Hussey made it known that she had an amaryllis that fell over as though done for, but it got straightened and now is vying with the Andrew plant to look the prettiest. That makes pretty good competition around here.

Some of our regular run plants are taking on new owners - a geranium, a jade, one each of three different episcias, an African violet, a fuschia, a fat-headed lizzie, a flowering maple in flower, that angel wing begonia that has that profuse bloom and a lone sansververia. Without this our plant culture of necessity stagnates. Somewhat of a problem has arisen in that last autumn we failed to garner and sift enough top soil to make up the planting soil unless we can find someone who has some to spare. There is a bare possibility that we can pull through without.

Pastor the Rev. Roger Sauve conducted the devotional period Friday morning taking as his theme what a remarkable man Jesus was. He had no property, he preached, performed miracles, and did no writing, and yet his doctrine dominates in the world today. To qualify as a disciple a person was required to take up his cross and follow. Rev. Sauve besides leading our singing, sang a few of his solos accompanied.

DISTRICT NEWS

Kinmount Korner

by Millie Moss

Greetings once again in 1981 from the Avenue. I hope you're keeping warm and well.

Ross Faulkner of "Coby" is a patient in hospital once again, after having undergone his second cornea transplant. Here's hoping Ross will be back home soon, again, all well and happy as he was in the "good old days". Why not drop Ross a note of cheer at this time? The address: Mr. Ross Faulkner, Toronto General, Gerard East Wing, 2nd floor, Room 139, University Avenue, Toronto.

Jason Moss of Norland was our house guest over Saturday night and I'm glad to report he's improving every day, after his recent hospital stay.

Sunday, at our house was a little busy. There were 21 of us to sit down to our second Xmas turkey dinner. It was held in honour of daughter, Bonnie and Jim who recently moved to Pinellas Park, Florida and who hadn't made it home for December 25. A number of us had been ill, over Xmas, so this one kind of made things up. Bonnie and Jim will be leaving for home in a week or so. Guests hailed from Toronto, Cobocok, Norland, Kinmount and of course, Florida.

Congratulations to Gladys Silver of Kinmount, the happy winner of the $140 bingo jackpot at St. Joseph's Hall in Bobcaygeon on Monday, January 19.

I was sorry to see Zoie Rolfe feeling so sick last Monday, but Tuesday a.m. she was her usual bubbling self again.

Don't forget to keep an eye to those chimneys that seem to be getting so much use on these cold days.

Some of the local boys were "down the street" early Tuesday happily preparing to leave for Simcoe on a fishing trip.

Lucky winner of the Norland Firefighters Hockey pool drawn on Saturday, January 17 was the fire chief himself, Jim Boyce, of Norland.

The Norland Ladies' Auxiliary will be holding a dance at the Norland Community Hall on Saturday, February 7, 1981 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., held under the authority of a special occasion permit. Admission will be $8 per couple with advance tickets available at Hyland Sports Centre in Norland. Lunch will be served and music by the Misty River Ramblers. Come out and enjoy the evening in the good company of your friends.

Joan and Ken Hyams spent a day or two in Toronto this past week.

I was sorry to hear Win Wilson was under the weather on Wednesday.

Here's another Harbour Grace recipe: Meat Loaf Pie: 1 lb. ground beef, 1/2 cup milk, 2 tsp. ketchup, 1/2 cup cornflake crumbs, bread or rolled oats, 1 tsp. finely chopped onion, 1 egg, 1 tsp. salt, 1/8 tsp. pepper, 2 cups hot mashed potato, 1/4 cup hot milk, 1 tsp. margarine, salt and pepper, 1/4 c. grated cheese. Heat oven to 350 degrees; combine first 8 ingredients, blending well with fork. Press in pan and bake 25 - 30 minutes until cooked. Combine remaining ingredients except cheese and put on top; sprinkle with cheese and return to oven 10 - 15 minutes longer.

A letter from a Nova Scotian cousin informed me that their roads and weather have been terrible with one snowstorm after another and continuous shovelling out. The freezing temperatures aren't missing them either.

Results of the Galway eucure: ladies' high: Jo Davidson, ladies' low: Flo Drinkie, men's high: Peanuts Davidson, men's low: John Hickey and most lone hands: Ken Young.

Proud parents were guests at the Kinmount public school Wednesday evening, January 21 when 17 young ladies received their badges and so became Brownies of the Kinmount #1 pack. The Brownies, themselves, had prepared sandwiches, cake, tea and coffee and served it to the guests. Congratulations to all you girls. To Brown Owl Joyce Wright and Tawny Owl, Sherry Dettman, thank you for the terrific job you're doing in contributing to the future of our young ladies. The Brownies meet at Kinmount Public School every Wednesday from 4 p.m. to 5:15 p.m. and anyone interested in becoming a Brownie and are 5 to 9 years of age give Joyce or Sherry a call. Joyce, at 488-2078 and Sherry can be reached at 488-2161.

The Moss Jr. family were guests of Ida and Clyde Pardy in Cobocok, Thursday evening.

Bonnie and Jim Walker along with the Moss Sr. family were guests of Helen and Alex Graham Thursday evening.

A number of cars plus a tractor trailer were reported in ditches and off the roads, early Wednesday morning. That little bit of misty rain and what it did was the culprit.

Al Fisher, the "bingo, bango, bongo" man from Fenelon Falls was the lucky $190. jackpot winner on the 59th number at Kinmount Legion bingo, Friday night, January 23. Congratulations All!

Bonnie and Jim Walker left our house Friday evening to spend the weekend in Toronto before heading back down south early Monday.

Happy birthday to Aaron Perry on January 24.

Also, to Ida and Ken Young, all your family and friends, a very merry Xmas on your own special day over this past weekend, January 24 - 25.

There was a real team spirit shown at the first broomball game, held at the Kinmount arena on Thursday evening, January 22, when the Kinmount Firefighters won out over the Norland Firemen's team with a score of 4 to 2. Bill Menard played part time goalie for Kinmount while Vern LeCraw played "right out there" with the rest of the boys for Norland. It was such a fun evening that a rematch was set up for Thursday, January 29 at the Kinmount arena, starting time 8 p.m. The boys are looking ahead to future games and hopefully future teams of firefighters from other areas. It should be fun, why not come out and support your favourites.

I hope you're feeling much better soon, Reg McCluney and Albert Crego, Bill Moss Sr. and anyone else who may be ill at this time.

I imagine a lot of people were watching the events on T.V. last week and it certainly was a happy moment when the 52 Americans came out of the plane at Algiers. This poem by Mrs. Florence Robinson of Minden symbolizes what the men of Algeria did in the name of brotherhood. She wrote it last week after their release.

It's 8 o'clock and time for the news, Now maybe we'll hear someone else's views, Oh dear, a murder, a rape and a fire, It's really enough to arouse one's ire. Can't they find anything cheerful or nice to say To start us off on a better day. It seems they don't call it news anymore Unless it's full of trouble and gore.

In this world of ours there seems so little love, I think it must sadden the Father above. So let us try harder, to be nice to others, Then maybe our countries will live more like brothers.

The birthdays at Hyland Crest Home for the month of February are: Ellen Johnston - 1st; Ellen Knight - 6th; and William Deacon - 11th. Remember a card is always a welcome gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Brandon are home after a holiday in Florida.

What will they think of next? I read in Lindsay paper last week that now tomatoes, lettuce, cucumbers, are being grown one mile below the earth's surface at Creighton nichel mine at Sudbury!

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cowen of Phelpsston visited relatives in the area over the weekend.

Attention all skaters! The Minden Nursery Play School are sponsoring public skating on Friday, February 13 from 2 - 4 p.m. As there will be no school that day everyone gets a chance to enjoy several hours of skating at regular prices. This afternoon will take the place of the regular Thursday afternoon skating for that week only.

The Basil Cox family of Bancroft spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Cox.

Isn't it funny that we spend the first 12 months of our children's lives teaching them to walk and talk and the next 12 telling them to sit down and be quiet?

The 2nd Chance Draw at Mae's Country Mart had its first winner last week when Al Hodgins was the lucky person. There will be a draw every Friday of Wintario tickets that didn't win in the lottery and that were purchased at the Country Mart.

The Thursday afternoon mini card party winners last week were: cribbage - Jeanne Sears, Lillian Davidson, Eucire - lone hands - Marg McAfee; Della Griffin, Effie McCaw.

What I must do is all that concerns me, not what the people think.

Mr. Blake Hughes and daughters of Mississauga spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Hughes.

The Big Brothers Organization for Haliburton and district are holding their first "Bowl for Millions" event at Carnarvon Lanes on Saturday, February 14. For more information contact the local Big Brother rep. Don Wolf-ram at Mae's Country Mart or Ron Robinson. The Carnarvon Lanes will also have information. Do support this worthy cause by your pledges.

"Fillet Bubbly Bake" - 1 package frozen fish fillets; 1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup; 2 tbsps. finely chopped onion; 1 tbsps. lemon juice; 1/2 cup shredded cheddar cheese. Partially thaw block of fillets then cut into three or four equal portions. Place in a shallow greased baking dish. Combine mushroom soup, onion and lemon juice. Spoon over fillets. Top with grated cheese. Bake in a hot oven at 400 degrees or 425 degrees until fish is cooked, about 30 minutes.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave White and Judy Miles of Barrie spent the weekend with Mrs. Toots Miles.

Don't forget the movies coming up for the children at the firehall on Saturday, February 14, 2 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. Better get some ahead. They say bread is going up 3 cents a loaf next month. It wouldn't be so bad if the bread was up to the old standard would it?

This Thursday, January 29 the Play School are sponsoring their regular skating from 2 - 3 p.m. All skaters are welcome.

There was a quilting bee at Mrs. Lily Hogg's last Thursday and Friday and believe it or not, the quilt was out of the frames by noon on Friday. This was a quilt, the top of which, was made and donated to the Women's Institute by Mrs. Hogg and will be raffled off come spring. Many thanks go to the W. I. members and other ladies who did such an excellent job in so short a time.

The Minden Agricultural Society are holding their annual meeting at the Minden municipal building on Wednesday, February 4 at 8 p.m. All members and interested persons please try to attend.

The Minden Women's Institute held their January meeting at the Parish Hall last week. The president, Mrs. Clare Brown, opened the meeting with an interesting reading. The roll call of stamped cards for the card convener was answered by 19 members. One visitor was present. The treasurer reported.

It seems crafts are a part of most folks' lives, and there are indeed, many beautiful hand-crafted articles to prove one can create many beautiful and useful items. In these days of assembly line productions, when some workmanship is not the best, a hand-made article is certain to last much longer and worth the extra money it may cost. One such craft is leatherwork and we all know leather practically never wears out. We may perhaps wish it would so we can have something new! It just wears on and on! For learning and seeing what beautiful items can be made this is your chance. The Norland Branch of the Canadian Society For Creative Leatherwork is participating in a 48-piece art exhibition of leatherwork by people across Canada. The display is at the Lindsay public library and runs for three weeks. The display opened January 20 so there is still lots of time to drop into Lindsay library during their business hours. There are many colorations, different kinds of leathers, sculptures, pictures in carving, filigree work displays, etc.; something for everyone to enjoy. Drop in to the library, talk to those who have created a lovely display, ask questions, perhaps enroll in a leather class so you too, can create a work of art. The whole affair is called "Leather '80" so drop in and make this display a real success.

Valentine's Day is drawing closer and if you are one who likes to dance - the Cobocok Legion is holding a Valentine Dance on February 14th. The Ladies' Auxiliary are handling the event and have a live band to provide some good music.

There will be a door prize and spot prizes and a good time planned for all. No need to drive miles to take your girl out for a fun evening when the Legion is close by and you can dance the hours away right at home! After all, gas for that luxury car you drive is very expensive, so support the local clubs and save money, too!

Weather is some milder, and winter driving pretty good. So far, no serious snowstorms.

I accompanied Verna McDonald of Lutterworth Pines, along with Marlene Petcher of Minden and Dorothy Bain of Haliburton to a meeting of the Muskoka Riverside Inn at Bracebridge last Monday afternoon. We had a good trip across the Vankoughnet Road to Bracebridge and an enjoyable hour at Bracebridge's Riverside Inn.

I came across this little verse and thought it worthwhile.

Do more than exist - LIVE.

Do more than touch - FEEL.

Do more than look - OBSERVE.

Do more than read - ABSORB.

Do more than hear - LISTEN.

Do more than listen - UNDERSTAND.

Do more than think - PONDER.

Do more than talk - SAY SOMETHING.

Stanhope Notes

by Alex Stevenson

The recent fire which destroyed the home and clothing contents of Mr. and Mrs. Colin Barjarow and their three children, has resulted in the Airport Committee deciding to share the proceeds of the Valentine dance to be held on February 14 at the Firefighters' Community Hall. The committee has decided to turn over half of the proceeds to a fund being started to assist the family meet this misfortune. The committee would also welcome any donations of food-stuff for the dance, thus keeping the cost to a minimum. This dance is usually staged by the flying enthusiasts to raise funds to enable them to hold the annual Fly-in enjoyed by so many area residents. Their decision to assist the Barjarow benefit is certainly a commendable one and Mrs. Pam Rolfe informs us that anyone wishing to support the fund, but not intending to go to the dance, may make donations of money by cheque payable to The Barjarow Benefit Fund and deposit same with Gerald Bain at the Stanhope Township Office or with Pam Rolfe at the office of the Carnarvon Lumber Supplies.

While on the subject of the Stanhope Airport committee it is worth noting that Derek Rolfe, long-time supporter of the airport activities and safety officer for the committee, has been chosen to receive the award for his entry in the antique aircraft class at the annual Experimental Aircraft Association of Canada Show held last July at Orlia. Derek's entry was his 1945 Taylor Craft and he will attend the association convention in Toronto, February 7 to receive his award. Our congratulations to Derek.

The recent protest from many municipalities across Ontario, in which Stanhope Township joined, objecting to the failure of the Ministry of the Environment to consult with South Cayuga on the decision to locate an industrial waste disposal site in that community, seems to have made some impression on the authorities. The ministry will now be holding public hearings to acquaint the residents with details of the proposed operation and the type of facility for processing the various types of waste material. The ministry also intends to unveil the details of personnel who would administer the operation. While the upcoming hearing does not meet the expectations of municipalities with regard to the Environmental Assessment Act, it is certainly reassuring to know that the concerns of the public are being given attention.

Emergency preparedness and disaster control came up for discussion at County Council when Mrs. Julie Gray spoke on the subject. She outlined the need for by-laws dealing with such control measures and indicated the need for a master plan on a county-wide basis rather than on a municipal level. Mrs. Gray also pointed to the need for creation of a committee which would have representatives from the O.P.P., fire department, plus other key personnel. It was decided to hold a seminar in March to be attended by those considered essential to such a program and open to the public.

A letter from the Ministry of Housing re shoreline allowances indicated that some complaints have been received re delays in implementing the program at the municipal level. However, it would appear that the ministry is satisfied that the hold-up is due to need for action by the county in coming forward with a comprehensive program.

The council members listened with some interest at the report on the Maple Syrup Feasibility Study was made by the consultant Mr. Jim Brown. The study, financed

25 per cent by the county and 75 per cent by the province for a total cost of $10,500, presented a picture of a possible county-wide industry which could be beneficial to several of the county municipalities. Factors re acreage, financing estimates, management needs were outlined and some mention was made about the new method of removing water from the sap by mechanical means followed by boiling, using oil produced heat. The consultant pointed to lower operating costs by the new method and this prompted reeve Jim Harrison of Stanhope to question the affect on a county like Haliburton where wood cutting is a source of employment, and also to point to the general oil situation that might prevail in the future. In the consultants breakdown of hard maple stands suitable for the plan, Stanhope was shown to have a favourable position with nine concentrated stands totalling more than 1,100 accessible acres. There was a large acreage of less accessible and lower concentrated stands but the heavier concentrations lend themselves to earlier consideration should the industry become an actual fact. As is to be expected financing is the most uncertain element in the industry's development. It does not appear to be an employment intensive proposition, but given time and financing the industry could have enriching and spin-off effects on the county economy.

"Leisure is a wonderful companion, but boredom is his brother."

Several of our residents are in hospitals in the area. Mrs. Lillian Bigelow is a patient in Bracebridge hospital. Mrs. Kitty Bessey was taken ill 10 days and was taken to Huntsville hospital. Mr. Wm. Ab-derson is also a patient in the Huntsville hospital. We send them all get well wishes and hope they will be healthy, happy and home again soon. It's nice to have the skating rink in shape again and to see the young people making use of it. There isn't that much for them to do in this area except the outdoor activities, which, of course, is the best activity they can enjoy. The snow machines are also active these days. I see them on the lake so hope it is safe, at last. The white expanse of the lake is beautiful to look at, with the dark area of trees on the far shore, with its runners of white carpet showing through.

Last Wednesday, Bob Streeter, who heads up Georgian College in the Huntsville area, addressed the Dorset Senior Club. He outlined a number of courses that were available to them from the college and also suggested a number of interesting subjects for which speakers could be obtained. There was an excellent turnout for the meeting and some new members joined so, all in all, it was a successful event. As happens at each meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess for the week.

ported $15. from the birthday box. It seems the members are all getting younger as this was less than last year. The correspondence was read by the secretary. Mrs. Pat Clarke reported that the district annual would be in Bobcaygeon on May 12 and that annual fees were up this year by one dollar.

It was decided to have the quilting start the next day at Mrs. Hogg's and that the tickets for the quilt raffle would be 50 cents or 3/$1.00. Tickets are to be ready for the next meeting. Three other quilt tops that had been given to the W.I. were then displayed but held over for another meeting.

Mrs. M. J. O'Neill gave a very interesting paper on current events during 1980.

Highlights of this paper were - mildness of winter at start of year; courses by Sir Sandford Fleming College in the area; the 22 lb., 10 oz. trout caught by Lorne Bull in Big Bob Lake; Kinsmen Winter Carnival Queens; New Toronto Dominion Bank opening; also many other events too numerous to mention but which we had half forgotten about.

Mrs. Milt Sears then gave a very humorous reading which had everyone laughing.

At the close of the meeting lunch was served by the hostesses. The next meeting will be on February 18 at United Church Hall, time 2 p.m.

See you at the winter carnival this coming weekend.

Adios and take care now.

A dinner held in Gooderham on January 21 paid tribute to Winnie Schofield, resigning library worker. This was followed by a meeting in the library where coming events were discussed. Librarian Bessie Croft noted that the circulation for 1980 was less than the previous year. Monmouth retained its position of third in circulation for the 10 library branches in the county. It was agreed that many extra library services provided by Monmouth contributed much more than the usual book distribution. After a lengthy illness, Norman Maxwell passed away in Thunder Bay on January 10. Funeral services were conducted at Thunder Bay with interment at Kakabeka Falls. His wife predeceased him two years ago. He leaves three sons, one daughter and five grandchildren. The sympathy of our community goes out to his sisters, Mrs. Vivian Dovel and Mrs. Grace Gill. Also surviving are his sister, Mrs. Maude Mackey of Dorenton, Saskatchewan and two brothers, Stan of Marmora and Jared of Victoria, B.C.

Mrs. Miller's Grade 4 class are studying about the Netherlands. They were pleased last week to have Barry Devolin visit their class and talk to them about this country.

Barry also used slides which he had taken when he was one of the Rotary-sponsored exchange students and visited the Netherlands last year. He gave an informative and interesting talk which will make that country live vividly in the memories of the fortunate students.

panying himself on his guitar. His skill at the piano keyboard is amazing to all of us. We were pleased to have him as guest at our after-service snacks of goodies and tea.

In the afternoon were two movies, Ray Smith projectionist: 1. The famous east African motor car rally giving brief scenes of cross country rally roads that encourages speed some times contrary to some local laws. We suppose these rallies are necessary if we want the most durable cars to travel in. 2. The wolf pack sketching the pack routine, the family and the discipline used to train the pups to be the better members of the pack. We always enjoy these nature films, but at what great risk it is to the cinematographer.

Nancy Picard and Peggy Neville gave us a nice demonstration of their skills at entertainment in the evening. These ladies are truly great, probably not realizing it themselves and being as matter of fact as can be. And what a dull place this would be without the Nancy's and the Peggy's to give us this good cheer.

That puzzle finally got finished with seven pieces missing, seven times as hard as if they were there, or is it? Sunday afternoon Lieut. Ron Mailman of the Haliburton Salvation Army and officer Amelia Sibley paid us a visit with his trusty guitar to accompany them and us in our singing the old favourite spirituals. In his message the lieut. referred to the Book of Isaiah in which God through his prophet chided the people of Judah for their sinful ways. This was an unscheduled visit which we appreciated greatly. Thanks!

There are many, many sick with the flu. I trust you are not one of them, and if you do have the flu, do take care of yourself. There are winter carnivals, hockey games, etc. still to be enjoyed during these winter months so do take care.

Ground hog day on February 2 is coming up and I'm sure we all hope he will not see his shadow, as this has been a very severe winter. The woodpeckers are fast vanishing and will do well if they last until spring. But do make sure you clean your stove pipes.

Conservative candidate named

David A. Murray, 52, a long-time resident of Victoria County, and a Balsam Lake marina owner, has announced his candidacy for the Progressive Conservative nomination for the riding of Victoria-Haliburton in the forthcoming provincial election.

Murray has been active in local government in Victoria County for a number of years. He currently sits as reeve of Fenelon Township, and is a member of Victoria County Council. He is chairman of the County Planning Board, and is a member of the County's Roads and Bridges; and Finance Committees.

As well, he is the Township of Fenelon representative on the newly-formed Kawartha Region Conservation Authority. He was chosen as the Authority's first chairman last fall, a position he still holds.

His involvement on the municipal scene stretches back to 1969 when he was first elected to Fenelon Township Council. He held the position of Councillor until 1971, when he became Deputy Reeve, and moved up to Reeve in 1977.

In 1978 he was named Warden of Victoria County, and has held the chairmanship of the County Finance, Roads and Bridges, Personnel, and Home for the Aged Committees at various times since 1971.

He has also represented Victoria County on the Kawartha Tourist Association.

Murray and his wife Aileen have owned and operated Nahma Lodge Marine on the south shore of Balsam Lake for the past 28 years. They have two grown children, Pennyjane and Andrew.

Murray's hobbies include hunting, fishing, snowmobiling, boating, and sailing, as well as piloting his own aircraft. He has, he said, a well-developed understanding of, and interest in, the tourist industry in Victoria-Haliburton. However, he said, he also recognizes the need to make careful use of delicately balanced natural resources, including those devoted to agricultural uses. So far, Murray is the only declared candidate for the Progressive Conservative nomination in the riding.

A, H, M discuss matters at council

At a recent meeting, Anson, Hindon and Minden council made the following decisions:

Jerry Pillsworth of the Minden Agricultural Society was present regarding the small concrete block building in which the curling club housed its ice making equipment.

The Minden Agricultural Society was given permission to make an Offer to Purchase to the curling club for the concrete building adjacent to the old curling club building situate on municipal property in Lot 5, Concession A, Township of Minden.

Over 800 people attended the five sessions of the East Central Farm Conference this year.

The great majority were farmers from Durham, Ontario, Peterborough, Victoria and Haliburton Counties. Some farmers from areas farther-east and west were in attendance as well.

The number registering for each session were as follows: Soil and Crop Day - 191; Beef Day - 177; Dairy Day - 180; Sheep Day - 130 and Pork Day - 159.

While farmers of all ages were in attendance, there was a predominance of young farmers at the Conference this year.

The Farm Business For Farm Women Seminar will certainly compensate for the lack of ladies at the Farm Conference. Over 260 women have registered for that seminar being held in Lindsay on February 10 and 11.

Farm Rental Seminar

Are you a farmer who rents some land from a property owner who doesn't need or use it for farming?

Or, are you the owner of farm property which you are interested in leasing to a farmer?

If you can answer "Yes" to either of these questions, then an up-coming Farm Rental Seminar is designed for you.

This seminar is being held on Friday, February 6 in the Conference Room at the Lindsay Agricultural Office. The program gets underway at 10:00 a.m. and should be over at about 3:00 p.m. The registration fee of $5 will include a hot beef meal at lunch.

The seminar will provide an opportunity for people involved in renting farm land, to exchange ideas and to get up-to-date information on various aspects of farm rentals.

Several area farmers will be discussing why they are involved in leasing land. Tools to help determine rental rates, and various types of leases, are among the topics to be covered by staff of the Ministry of Agriculture and Food, and Lindsay lawyer, William Evans, will outline some of the points which should be included in the farm lease agreement.

This Farm Rental Seminar on February 6 is open to anyone interested in this subject. No pre-registration is required.

MNR to fund conservation study

Ontario's minister of natural resources has agreed to provide up to $10,000 for a feasibility study to determine if Haliburton County could benefit from a conservation authority.

In a letter to county council, James Auld said his ministry is prepared to fund the study this year.

Warden Murray Fearley told council the idea of a local authority came to light as a result of concerns expressed by the county's water level committee to the deputy minister of natural resources at a meeting last year. The committee was trying to find out if it could do anything about fluctuating water levels in the Trent Severn waterway system. The deputy minister suggested at the meeting that a conservation authority might be one means of obtaining some control over water levels.

The study, which council agreed to request, is expected to indicate if a conservation authority would benefit the area, and if it would provide another means of working with Trent Severn waterway officials to iron out water level problems in the county's rivers and lakes.

The principal of Huron College, the Venerable John Morden will be the preacher for the occasion. Music will be provided by the choir of the Cathedral Church of St. James, St. Paul's Church and the Church of St. Simon the Apostle.

Coroner's jury investigates six car deaths

A coroner's jury will be investigating the deaths of the six people who were killed in a two-car accident on highway 35, north of Carnarvon in November.

The inquest will be held at the Minden municipal building on February 11 and 12.

IN MEMORIAM

FILMAN, Ruth - In loving memory of a wonderful mother and grandmother, Ruth, who passed away January 31, 1979. I little knew when I woke that morn, The sorrow the day would bring, The call was sudden, the shock severe, To part with one I loved so dear. Sometimes it's hard to understand, Why some things have to be. In his wisdom, God has planned, Beyond my power to see. Though her smile is gone forever, And her hand we cannot touch, Still we have so many memories, Of the one we loved so much. Her memory is our keepsake, With which we'll never part; God has her in His keeping, We have her in our heart. 32-B-28

A, H, M hold first January council

Council was concerned that ice had built up on the floor inside the centre. Wrightman advised that weather conditions did not permit proper caulking but he would apply a temporary seal now which would be removed in the spring and a proper seal applied at that time. He also stated that more heat was required in the building to dry the concrete pad as well as the walls. Copper flashing would also be applied to the bottom log when it had dried. Council agreed that completion of the outside of the building could be deferred until possibly February when weather conditions improve. Council will request a representative from M.T.C. to attend a council meeting to review the signs erected on Highway #35 indicating Minden.

From the Chamber

children's services come under the jurisdiction of municipal governments within the next four to five years and an advisory committee will be required in our county. Anyone interested should certainly make it a point to attend.

Marketing Plan on the Move

This year's Chamber Directory and the related accommodation guides are now closed for further advertising and are being prepared to hand over to the printer next week. This project began last May with the preparation of the first draft of a Marketing Plan and by August we had a letter to the members explaining the entire promotional package. Since that time we have made every effort to contact every member to make sure they understood what we were setting out to do and we have, in order to do this, post-poned the original deadline twice. We were able to do this without sacrificing the delivery date of the materials, which will be prior to the Sportsman Show in March.

As a result of over $22,000 provided by those who advertised, the Chamber will this year be distributing 25,000 directories locally to visitors, cottagers and residents that will provide a host of valuable year-round information, 50,000 "Lure" brochures at shows, information centres and travel agencies both in Ontario and abroad, and 20,000 accommodation guides which provide specific information about facilities available including their rates. This is the most ambitious program ever put together by our organization and the board is looking forward to the finished product and the results of it with great anticipation. Watch for it!

Saturday Night Sleigh Rides

Another candidate has appeared in our search for sleigh rides. Sir Sam's Inn and the Silver Eagle Cottage Resort have put together a Saturday evening package that includes an old-fashioned horse-drawn sleigh ride beginning at Silver Eagle and winding up there at the "Fracture Room" for coffee and donuts. The maximum number that can be accommodated is 20 people so it is imperative that you make reservations by phoning Ann Lee at 754-2497. Cost is only $5.00 per person. Happy sleigh riding.

song. Grace has been away the last two weeks with a bad case of laryngitis. She's all better now, and we're happy to have her back with us. Mr.

Fred Ballard played the piano for us while we sang some familiar old gospel hymns. It was a nice relaxing way to end the week of activities at Hyland Crest.

GUIDE FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

SERVICES AND PROGRAMS IN ONTARIO

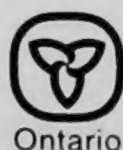

Ontario Senior Citizens now have their own guide to services and programs.

Ontario's Senior Citizens have contributed a great deal to our province, and to help ensure that they can enjoy healthier and more active lives, the Ontario Government has published a new booklet called "Guide for Senior Citizens". This handy reference guide describes the wide range of services and programs available for seniors in Ontario.

The Guide includes information on health care programs, housing assistance, tax grants, community clubs and centres, and many other subjects of interest to seniors in Ontario. By the end of February, all Ontario Senior Citizens who receive the Old Age pension will receive a copy of the Guide in the mail.

Others who would like a copy can write to: Ontario Government Publications Centre, 5th Floor, 880 Bay Street, Toronto, Ontario M7A 1N8
